

TOMMY ADLER

TAKEDA PHARMACEUTICALS

Associate Director
Global Product Protection
(Americas Region)
US - Canada - LATAM

Tommy joined Takeda in January 2020 after a long career in both State & Federal Law Enforcement, the last 20 years assigned to numerous countries throughout Latin America.

In his current role in Global Product Protection, Tommy is responsible for the direction and outcome of all regional based product security investigations, counterfeiting and other types of illicit trade activities of Takeda Products and directs supply chain and logistics security initiatives, education, training and awareness programs, as well as promote high security standards and requirements for supply chain partners and perform due diligence and audit against these requirements throughout the region.

Better Health, Brighter Future

- Member since 2020
- LATAM Group
- Supply Chain Leaders Group
- Logistics Security Group

Tommy lives in Florida with his wife (Jenny), son (Nico), and their "flying children" Lupe & Diego, South American macaws, where they enjoy sailing, water sports, beach hiking, Macaw Rescue Team, and Jenny's Colombian home cooking.

Education & Credentials

MBA Business Administration (Minor in Finance), National Louis University - Evanston, IL.
BA Criminal Justice (Minor in International Studies), Northeastern Illinois University - Chicago, IL.
Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) - Leading Operational Excellence
Rx-360 - Brand Protection & Supply Chain Integrity
US Department of Justice Project Management Certification
US Department of Justice Program Management Certification