Patient Safety Review

Second Quarter, 2026

Dr. S. Leigh Verbois Named Chief Executive Officer of Rx-360

Rx-360 is pleased to announce the appointment of Dr. S. Leigh Verbois as Chief Executive Officer – effective July 14, 2026 – marking a significant milestone in our continued commitment to protecting patient safety by advancing global pharmaceutical supply chain security and quality.

"I am thrilled to take on this role during this dynamic time in the pharmaceutical industry. I eagerly await working with the talented Rx-360 team to protect patients through global collaboration across the pharmaceutical sector through optimization of existing capabilities and innovation in global supply chain security and integrity," said Verbois.

Verbois has an exceptional record of leadership in regulatory science, compliance, and global public health – areas that are foundational to Rx-360's mission of protecting patient safety. She served as Director of the Office of Drug Security, Integrity and Response within the U.S. Food and Drug Administration's (FDA) Center for Drug Evaluation and Research (CDER) Office of Compliance. In this role, she led strategic oversight of pharmaceutical import and export activities, recalls, and critical supply chain compliance and enforcement programs.

Member of the Quarter

Elizabeth Meyers

Director of Global Distribution Quality

AMGEN

Elizabeth Meyers has been named as the Rx-360 Member of the Quarter for Q2 2026. Her nomination was inspired by her contributions to the Direct-to-Consumer Pharmaceutical Programs Working Group.

Elizabeth joined Amgen in 1999 and has held leadership roles across analytical laboratories, quality compliance, international quality, and global distribution quality. Over her 25+ year career, she has led internal and external audits, established Amgen's Compendial Compliance Program, supported quality operations across Europe, and currently provides risk-based quality oversight for the global distribution network.

As a recognized industry thought leader and patient safety advocate, Elizabeth has published articles in BioProcess International and the PDA Newsletter and has presented at international conferences on pharmacopeial convergence and inspection trends. She holds master's degrees in Chemical Engineering and Regulatory Science and, outside of work, enjoys ballet, opera, symphony performances, and exploring art museums around the world.

Employee Spotlight
Brian Leach, CAPA Manager

At Rx-360, our commitment to quality extends well beyond the audit itself. Under the leadership of Brian Leach, CAPA Manager, our corrective and preventive actions (CAPA) management service helps ensure that audit findings are not only identified but effectively addressed, tracked, and closed. Working closely with sponsors, auditees, and audit licensees, Brian oversees a structured process that promotes accountability, transparency, and continuous improvement across the industry.

What makes Rx-360's CAPA Management Service unique is its seamless integration with our audit scheduling, execution, and audit licensing programs. Following an audit, findings are transitioned into a centralized CAPA platform where remediation activities, supporting evidence, and progress updates can be monitored in real time. Because sponsors, auditees, and organizations that license Rx-360 audits receive CAPA updates, stakeholders gain visibility into the status and effectiveness of corrective actions without the need for redundant follow-up efforts.

Through his leadership of the CAPA management service, Brian plays a vital role in advancing Rx-360's mission to strengthen supply chain integrity. His efforts help organizations move beyond compliance and toward a more collaborative, efficient, and risk-based approach to supplier quality management, ultimately supporting product quality and patient safety throughout the global healthcare supply chain.

About

The Rx-360 Patient Safety Community is a secure, members-only digital forum designed to support open dialogue, knowledge sharing, and collaboration related to patient safety topics across the Rx-360 network.

Hosted within Salesforce Chatter, the community enables timely communication and peer engagement in a trusted environment. Rx-360 member company employees are eligible for free Patient Safety Community accounts. We encourage users to interact as their schedules allow 24/7/365 - generating momentum toward global alignment and building their own networks of patient safety champions.

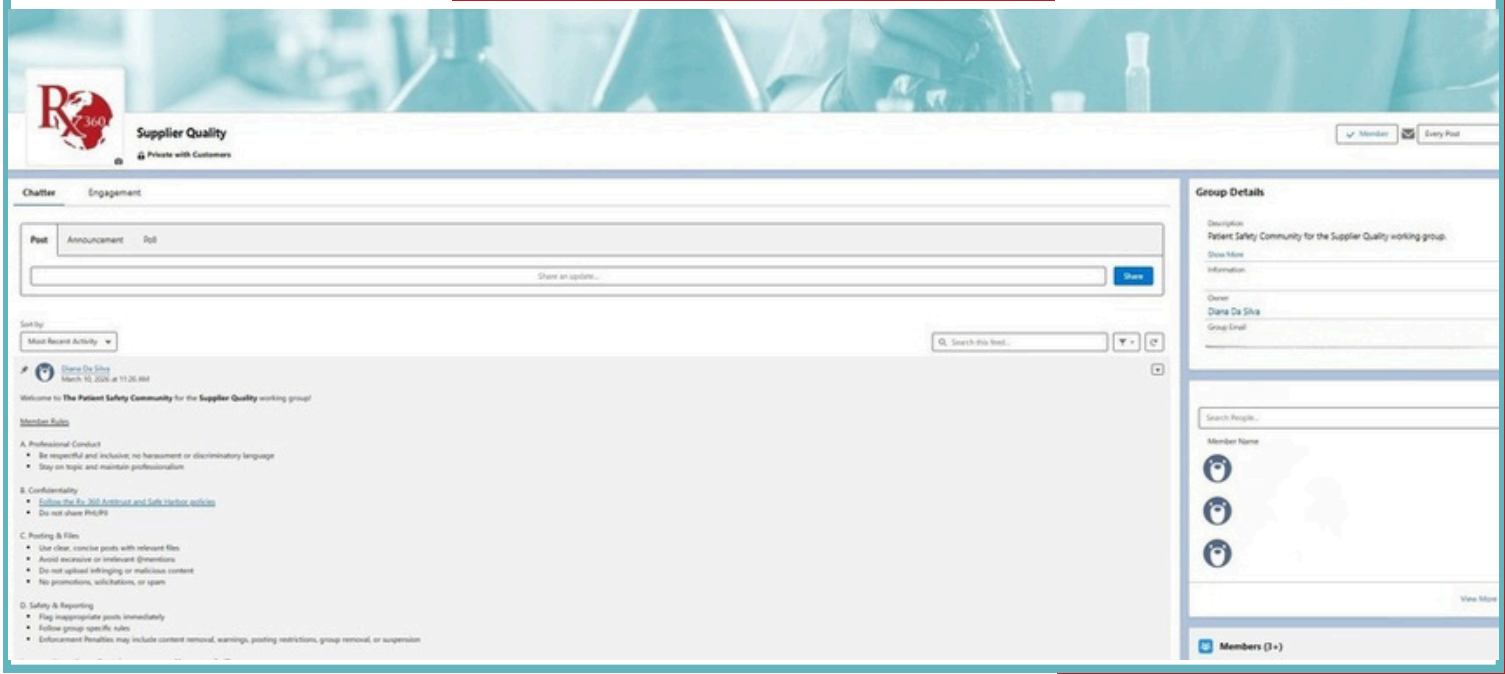

Our Global Commitment

Rx-360 facilitates collaboration and transparency as means of protecting patient safety across the global pharmaceutical supply chain.

The Patient Safety Community operates under safe harbor protections from the U.S. government that ensure Rx-360 and its members can collaborate openly and share critical supply chain security and quality data without fear of legal repercussions. Safe harbor enables trusted partnerships that safeguard patients, prevent counterfeit drugs, and maintain compliance across complex international networks.

These principles and protections have been in place since Rx-360's founding in 2009.
